UNIT STYLE SHEET 5: FACINGS AND REWORKED MODELS

A FACINGS units turn freely in play; at rest they settle on a map axis or the exact diagonal between two axes

TANK

0° axis · 45° diagonal · 90° axis · 135° diagonal · 180° axis · 225° diagonal · 270° axis · 315° diagonal

SELF-PROPELLED GUN

0° axis · 45° diagonal · 90° axis · 135° diagonal · 180° axis · 225° diagonal · 270° axis · 315° diagonal

SOLDIER

0° axis · 45° diagonal · 90° axis · 135° diagonal · 180° axis · 225° diagonal · 270° axis · 315° diagonal

TRUCK

0° axis · 45° diagonal · 90° axis · 135° diagonal · 180° axis · 225° diagonal · 270° axis · 315° diagonal

B THE REWORKED MODELS, CLOSE UP one shape per part, not several bolted together

TANK: one-piece cast turret, smooth hull

GUN: angular, boxy hull and gun house

SOLDIER: rifle at the shoulder

SAME, FROM THE FRONT

SAME, SIDE ON

TANKER: fuel sign

MEDICAL: blue disc, white cross

RADAR: a real dish

UNITS BY ACT: I SPIES, II BORDER

ACT I SPIES single people and civilian vehicles in the painted close view

AGENT

GUARD

SOLDIER

INFORMANT (ARMBANDS)

SCIENTIST (TEAM TRIM)

CAR

VAN

NEUTRAL

ordinary clothes,
never team colours

BYSTANDER

BYSTANDER

DEFECTOR (SUITCASE)

TAXI

DELIVERY VAN

ACT II BORDER squads, platoons and single vehicles on the terrain map

INFANTRY

SQUAD OF 5

SCOUT CAR

TRUCK

CARRIER

TANK

GUN

HELICOPTER

CIVILIAN TRUCK

AID POST

UNITS BY ACT: III INVASION, IV THRESHOLD

ACT III INVASION companies and battalions on the hex map: a few models stand for the formation

Opposing formations: the bar is only known where your intelligence reaches; the rest stay dashed with a question mark.

ACT IV THRESHOLD battered formations, convoys, shelters and people on the move

Neutral: people and aid are never a target marker.

Faint outlines only count losses at a glance; they are not on the map and block nothing.

UNITS BY ACT: V WASTELAND, VI WORLD, VII SECOND TRY

ACT V WASTELAND convoys, shelters and survivors

SURVIVOR GROUP

CONVOY TRUCK

FUEL TANKER

MEDICAL TRUCK

SHELTER

SUPPLY CACHE

SCOUT

ACT VI WORLD strategic assets; on the world map itself they shrink to glowing symbols of the same silhouettes

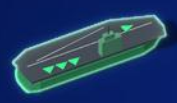

MISSILE SILO

MISSILE

SUBMARINE

AIRCRAFT CARRIER

SHIP

AIR BASE

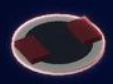

BOMBER

FIGHTER

RADAR

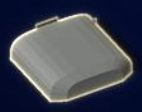

ACT VII SECOND TRY the launch site and what was saved; former enemies work on the same things

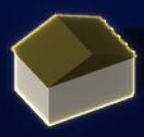

THE SHIP AND ITS TOWER

SEED VAULT

POLAR STATION

LIBRARY

HOSPITAL SHIP

TRANSPORT AIRCRAFT

FUEL

A CREW, BEFORE

A CREW, NOW

ONE CONVOY, TWO COLOURS

SIZE, DETAIL, MARKERS, WRECKS AND SYMBOLS

C TRUE RELATIVE SIZE

one person is 1.75 m; each row has one scale. Ships, submarines and the launch ship are far larger and are left out here

D FOUR LEVELS OF DETAIL

the same tank as the map zooms out

close: every part

middle: no small parts

far: small, same shape

farthest: a dot

E MARKERS

ring only when selected and centred on the hull; a strength bar above every unit

selected: ring and bar

yours, not selected: bar only

opposing: no ring, bar unknown

destroyed: marked, then see F

F WRECKS AND CRASH SITES (PROPOSAL)

a wreck stays only where it matters to play ground wreck: cover, blocks a road,

can be stripped for parts in Act V

aircraft lost: a crash site for a few turns;
the crew can be rescued or captured

anything that matters to nobody
fades after the replay

G MEDICAL SYMBOL

no red cross, red crescent or red crystal, and no white cross on red: those are protected emblems

A white cross, blue disc chosen

B green cross on white clashes with your own green

C white heart, blue disc friendlier, less military

D pulse line
furthest from any emblem

never protected emblem

How it is made: each model is a few lofted, rounded shapes drawn with a z-buffer, flat shading, a cast shadow and a thin rim light in the team colour.
In the real game these would be true 3D models in the engine under a fixed camera: free rotation, live shadows, and an artist can refine each one later.